

NORTHERN COLORADO INTERPRETERS GATHERING

The Art and Science of Interpretation

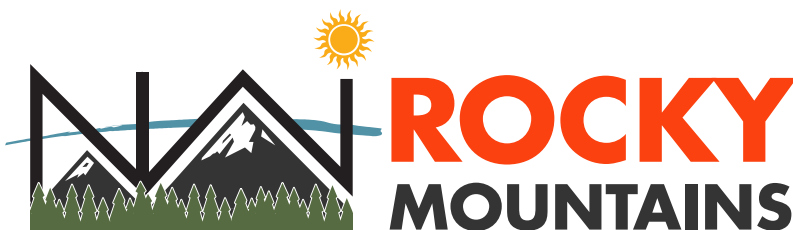

Photo courtesy of HPEC

Exploring the principles of interpretive communications

Bring your lunch and join us for an afternoon of learning and professional growth as we discuss the basics of interpretation, how and why it works, and ways to integrate it into your work.

Presentations will cover the basic fundamentals of the interpretive method using the TORE approach (Thematic, Organized, Relevant and Engaging). The program is appropriate for newcomers to the profession as well as veteran interpreters who want to brush-up their skills and share their knowledge and experience.

Following the presentations there will be time for networking and a tour of the HPEC Educational Visitor Center and grounds.

This event is organized by the National Association for Interpretation Rocky Mountain Region. All are welcome and you do not have to be an NAI member to attend. For more information about NAI please visit: www.interpnet.com

Event Information

WEDNESDAY, Oct.. 11

11:30 AM - 2:30 PM

at the 2698 Bluestem Willow Dr.

Loveland, CO 80538

(Off Highway 34, just west of I-25)

Program schedule:

11:30 - 1:30

Main program

Bring a sack lunch!

1:30

Tour the High Plains
Environmental Center

*This is a FREE program!
RSVP by Friday, Oct. 6 to:*

Deborah Price

dprice@bouldercounty.org