

INAUGURAL WATER IN THE WEST SYMPOSIUM APRIL 26-27, 2018

MCNICHOLS CIVIC CENTER BUILDING, DENVER, COLORADO

Join experts, policymakers, researchers, and investors at The Water in the West Symposium, hosted by Colorado State University.

Hear the latest around water challenges, collaborate with experts, and create a roadmap for water research, innovation, education, and policy that will take place at the Water Resources Center, the first building to be constructed at the future National Western Center, a 250-acre redevelopment in north Denver.

- Networking and investment: explore solutions to Western water issues with public and private partners, nonprofits, and investors.
- Dynamic content: join conversations bridging urban and rural interests, with topics ranging from food production and beer to skiing and the environment.
- Thought-provoking leadership: hear from nationally-recognized speakers regarding the latest water technologies, trends, and plans.

More than 20 confirmed expert speakers to-date including Secretary of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Sonny Perdue, and Tom Vilsack, Former Secretary of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

For additional information and to register, visit nwc.colostate.edu.

